SPRINKLING a tiny BIT of HAPPINESS all over THIS FUNNY OLD PLANET.

'The Happy News For Schools' is launching this September and is something I've been hoping to achieve since the very first issue of The Happy Newspaper back in 2015.

I believe that children deserve to be hearing about the good stuff going on in the world and not constantly surrounded by terror and fear. I want to encourage and inspire children to find their own happy news and look for the kindness in their schools and communities.

KEEP SMILING, emily_x

THE HAPPY NEWS

Originally funded by a successful Kickstarter campaign, The Happy Newspaper celebrates all that's good in the world. This inspiring quarterly publication is jam packed with optimistic and uplifting stories from across the globe and hopes to be a refreshing addition to the mainstream media.

- 32 colourful, illustrated pages
- No boring adverts
- Good quality paper (not newsprint!) so it can be shared and passed around as many times as possible
- Suitable for all ages including children
- For every two newspapers we send to subscribers we'll send one copy to a school
- Discounted price for schools/NHS - £1 per copy

Some happy stories and facts for you to share with others!

DESIGN a
jumper for a PENGUIN

AUSTRALIA'S OLDEST MAN HELPED TO SAVE INJURED PENGUINS

Australia's oldest man used to spend his free time knitting teeny tiny jumpers for little penguins in need. A massive oil spill injured hundreds of the little fellas that are only native to southern Australia and New Zealand and 109 year old Alfie was asked if he could help out. The jumpers served a specific purpose, they stopped the injured penguins from trying to peck at and swallow the toxic oil sludge that stuck to them during the spill.

Several yellow smiley faces of various sizes and expressions are scattered around the page. Some have simple dots for eyes and a curved line for a smile, while others have more detailed features like eyelashes or different mouth shapes.

REMARKABLE BLUE WHALE NUMBERS RECORDED

Scientists from the British Antarctic Survey reported seeing 55 different whales in the coastal waters around the sub-Antarctic island of South Georgia this year. This is a huge increase on the two that were spotted during a survey in 2018.

NINE-YEAR-OLD DOUBLE AMPUTEE IS FEARLESS ON FASHION WEEK CATWALK

PAULA DECLARED WORLD'S OLDEST SLOTH

A sloth at Halle Zoo in Germany has been crowned the oldest of its species at 50-years-old in sloth years - the equivalent of about 90 in human years. Two-toed sloths have a typical lifespan of 20 years in the wild or 30 to 40 years in captivity, so at half a century old Paula is the oldest on record.

The news was announced ahead of International Sloth Day on 20 October. Paula, who was thought to be a 'Paul' for 20 years before an ultrasound revealed her true gender, has now been accepted into the Guinness Book of World Records.
