Bed time

In the early evening orang-utans make a nest to sleep in. They use branches, leaves and twigs. Sometimes they even add a leafy roof to keep the rain off!

finding food

Orang-utans sometimes eat insects as well as birds' eggs and honey. They use twigs to help them reach insects or to get honey from holes in trees.

Finding Out

About

Orang-utans

under threat

People cut down rainforests to sell the wood. Large areas of forest are cleared to grow crops.

growing up

above 8 years young orang-utans are ready to look after themselves. They leave their mothers and go off into the forest alone.

By Georgia

Habitats

orang-utans find a big leaf to use as an umbrella if it rains.
They also use leaves as a sunhat
when it is hot.

orang-utans in zoos

zookeepers feed the orang-utans and make sure they stay healthy.

orang-utans are very good at escaping from a zoo.

"Hi I'm Ellen". I was born in September. I like art. I got this liking of art of my mam, because she actually made my birthday invitations.

I live in Regwood. My house is an orangey, blonde colour. Also, my house has 9 rooms. My room looks the tidiest. It's because I tidy my room the most. I have a really high bed that's so I can have a desk under my bed.

I live with my mam, dad and little sister Emilie. My mam and Dad are very loving and I love them very much. Emilie is very lively and funny. I love playing with Emilie because she is very funny. Even one day Emilie was pretending to be the queen of the world.

My 8th birthday party was really fun. It was a spa, we had foot baths and everything. My Mam prepared blue lemonade with a cocktail stick that had blueberries and with a mini umbrella. (The blue lemonade was supposed to be raspberry Mocktail!) We even had a naptime session!

when I was 3 and a half. I met my little sister, Emilie. Emilie was only one day late. I was nine days late. Emilie was cute but very screaming.

When I'm older I want to be a computer artist. Just like my mam. A computer artist is an art artist who does designs on a computer. My mam does really cool stuff like put really cool designs on things like place mats. And this is the end of my autobiography "bye!!!"

Have you ever wondered what that red round circle is in the sky at night? Well your about to find out because this man Hayden Henderson has travelled to it! Keep reading to find out more.

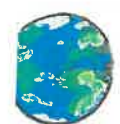

Hayden was born in the year 2000, Columbia [USA]. His room was covered with space and planet decorations. His hobbies were playing video games and reading biographies.

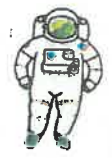

Much admired, Hayden started going to Square Circle University at the age of 20, he absolutely loved it. He trained completely focused to accelerate the pedal of a plane. He needed to be quick thinking, cool headed also completely brave. One day he got an email that a worrying war needed him and he had one or two problems with that. Meanwhile he was flying x15 jet plane for training.

Perfectly confident, Hayden got married to a lady called Sophia Slaton and had two kids called John and Marcus. But unfortunately he had to move to Konou in French Guiana. Carefully, he studied space at the E.S.A and was quite ecstatic working there. When he was flying a rocket plane for training with his partner Jimmy Jacks he was about to crash into a massive boulder but suddenly he swooped up and managed to stay safe thankfully.

In 2030, Hayden lifted off to Mars. When he landed on the rocky planet with red dust made from Iron, he searched the circular planet with his training partner and his brother Kai Henderson. Later on, Hayden slammed the flag into the disgusting, hard floor. A dangerous dust storm came but that was no match for him as he dodged the whirring wind just in time.

Nearly exhausted, he got down from space. There was a huge parade and he was a very jubilant over it. HE WAS NOW FAMOUS! He felt so accomplished and excited. He became a N.A.S.A agent. Sadly, he died of a heart attack on July28th 2055 in the R.V.I hospital. (Newcastle upon Tyne)

Dear Diary,

Today was a long day. It started with my apple (as usual) but I didn't want it for some reason. Suddenly I remembered. Today was the day I was Dreading would never come. My mum was ready in her dress. I reluctantly ate my apple, each bite reminding me this was the last apple I would have in a long time.

My Mum and me walked to a station where I would be left.

Once we arrived, my heart dropped. I said goodbye to my mum remembering the next time I got off the train... I would be an alien.

I teared up at the station, remembering I would not see my mom for a long time.

My teacher, Mrs. Roberts was smoking a pack of cigarettes filling the room with smoke. All my class was at the station. Actually it seemed like all of London was there. My teacher, Mrs. Evans was picking up Tucky, my friend. Everytime she had a question she always asked Tucky and Tucky never knew.

It was 3 hours before we could board a train. Once we got on we got jam rolls. Me and Tucky sat in a carriage with Mrs. Roberts who was smoking again but I didn't care.

Tucky was sick on the train Mrs. Roberts had to hold his head up.

10 hours later, we finally got off the train, and we had arrived in Exeter and had tomato soup. It tasted amazing and I actually felt a lot better.

All my class went to the town hall where we would be picked by our carers. All my class got picked until there was only two people left: me and Tucky.

3 hours went by and still nobody came to pick me and Tucky.

A bit later a big man came with a sheep dog, and he came to pick me or Tucky. I don't really want to go with him.

The Hinduism Creation Story

Before time began, the heavens were non-existent, the earth was nothing and there was no space inbetween. The gigantic, scaled cobra hovered in the nothing. Asleep inside it's coils was Vishnu. The sound "Om" spilled into the nothing and woke Vishnu. As Vishnu woke, a magnificent, pink lotus flower sprouted from his navel. In the center of the beautiful flower sat Brahma. Vishnu ordered Brahma to create the world, then the cobra and Vishnu vanished. Brahma split the lotus flower into thirds. One the heavens, another the earth and the last one the sky. The earth was bare so Brahma made flora and fauna and gave the animals their senses: touch, sound, sight and movement.
